DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The Amendment filed 12/24/2008 has been entered. Claims 4-6 have been added. Claims 1-6 are pending.
2. The previous 112 2nd Paragraph rejections have been withdrawn in light of applicant's amendments made 12/24/2008.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
  2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
  3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
  4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1794

4. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saito et al. (EP 1 364 585 A1).

5. Regarding claims 1-2 and 5, Saito et al. disclose an acidic beverage comprising acid-soluble soybean protein and calcium chloride dihydrate and has a pH value of 3.8 (Abstract, p. 7/Example 3/[0041], p.12/Example 10/[0065]).

While there is no explicit disclosure regarding the preparation of an acid soybean beverage using powder obtained in Example 3, given the Saito et al. disclose the equivalence and interchangeability of the protein powders made by examples 1–5 (p.8/Table 1) it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the powder of example 3 in the beverage of example 10.

Regarding claim 3, Saito et al. disclose all of the claim limitations as set forth above. Further, calcium chloride dehydrate is known to be water-soluble.

Regarding claim 4, Saito et al. disclose all of the claim limitations as set forth above and that the aqueous solution of the acid-soluble soybean protein has a pH of 3.5 (i.e. acidic pH - [0041]).

Regarding claim 6, Saito et al. disclose all of the claim limitations as set forth above that no stabilizer is used ([0065]/Example 10). Further, Saito et al. disclose a food or drink which is produced without a homogenizing step (see Example 10 wherein no homogenization step is disclosed - [0065]).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 12/24/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that Saito et al. fails to disclose that one or more minerals are selected from the group consisting of salts, hydroxides and oxides of alkaline-earth metals and salts, hydroxides and oxides of transition metals.

However, it is this Examiner's position that Saito et al. disclose a soybean protein powder which has excellent solubility under acidic conditions, made from soybean and calcium chloride dihydrate (i.e. salt of alkaline-earth metal - [0041], [[0012], Abstract).

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1794
